HELPING HANDS

How the UMSOP Community is Stepping Up During the COVID-19 Pandemic

April 13, 2020

Sharing Baked Goods with the Community

Staff member Colleen Day shares baked goods with her local police station, Baltimore’s Veteran’s Affairs Medical Center, and a floor at the University of Maryland Medical Center. Read the whole story here.

Leading Nonprofit Organizations and Volunteering for Meals on Wheels

Graduate student Marlene Mahipat helps others through her nonprofit organizations and volunteering with Meals on Wheels. Read the whole story here.
Dean Eddington Establishes the Student Emergency Fund

Associate Dean of Development and Alumni Affairs Ken Boyden shares the announcement of the University of Maryland School of Pharmacy Student Emergency Fund. Read the whole story here.

Do you have a story?

Share your story of how you have reached out to support your family, friends, colleagues, and community during the COVID-19 pandemic. If you know someone who has done something good, give them kudos!

Submit

KUDOS

Read All About It

Click here to read the latest from faculty, staff, students, and alumni recognizing their colleagues and peers for a job well done.

Take me to the good news

University of Maryland School of Pharmacy
HELPING HANDS

How the UMSOP Community is Stepping Up During the COVID-19 Pandemic

April 20, 2020

My Daughter's Hero

Alumna Min-li Cary and her daughter recognize the heroic work of the pharmacists at Finksburg Pharmacy. Read the whole story here.

On the Front Lines

Alumnus LaMont Smith returns from retirement to care for COVID-19 patients in

Upholding My Oath

Alumnus Sheel Shah upholds his oath as a pharmacist by working multiple jobs and volunteering in his community during the COVID-19 pandemic. Read the whole story here.
southwest Georgia. Read the whole story here.

Do you have a story?
Share your story of how you have reached out to support your family, friends, colleagues, and community during the COVID-19 pandemic. If you know someone who has done something good, give them kudos!

Submit

KUDOS

Read All About It
Click here to read the latest from faculty, staff, students, and alumni recognizing their colleagues and peers for a job well done.

Take me to the good news

University of Maryland School of Pharmacy
HELPING HANDS
How the UMSOP Community is Stepping Up During the COVID-19 Pandemic

April 27, 2020

Sewing Face Masks in Support of Others

School of Pharmacy associate professor crafts face masks for her clinic and community. Read the whole story here.

Helping Seniors Pay for Their Medications

School of Pharmacy professor goes above and beyond to make sure her patients can afford diabetes medications during the COVID-19 pandemic. Read the whole story here.
Local Assisted Living Facility

Inspirational readings from alumnus Tony Chite keep residents' spirits high during the COVID-19 pandemic. Read the whole story here.

Using Telehealth to Help Patients – and Pharmacy Students

The Center for Innovative Pharmacy Solutions offers an innovative way for student pharmacists to complete required rotations during the COVID-19 pandemic. Read the whole story here.

Lamy Center Continues Outreach to West Baltimore Community

Faculty and staff at the Peter Lamy Center on Drug Therapy and Aging deliver care packages to older adults in West Baltimore. Read the whole story here.

Do you have a story?

Share your story of how you have reached out to support your family, friends, colleagues, and community during the COVID-19 pandemic. If you know someone who has done something good, give them kudos!

KUDOS

Read All About It

Click here to read the latest from faculty, staff, students, and alumni recognizing their colleagues and peers for a job well done.
HELPING HANDS
How the UMSOP Community is Stepping Up During the COVID-19 Pandemic

May 4, 2020

The Kindness Pantry

Alumnus Ashleigh Lowery’s The Kindness Pantry supports teachers and students in Howard County. Read the whole story here.

Providing Patient Care via Telehealth During the COVID-19 Outbreak

The School of Pharmacy’s eHealth Center offers an innovative rotation experience for pharmacy students during the COVID-19 pandemic. Read the whole story here.
Staff develop innovative ways to interact with local residents through social media and videography. Read the whole story here.

Do you have a story?

Share your story of how you have reached out to support your family, friends, colleagues, and community during the COVID-19 pandemic. If you know someone who has done something good, give them kudos!

Submit

KUDOS

Read All About It

Click here to read the latest from faculty, staff, students, and alumni recognizing their colleagues and peers for a job well done.

Take Me To The Good News
How the UMSOP Community is Stepping Up During the COVID-19 Pandemic

May 11, 2020

Collaborative Effort to Donate PPE to Our UMMC Colleagues

Faculty and staff across the School of Pharmacy donate essential personal protective equipment to the University of Maryland Medical Center. Read the whole story here.

Finding Ways to Connect with My Cancer Patients

Oncology pharmacist leverages technology to connect with patients and support treatment success during the COVID-19 pandemic. Read the whole story here.

Pharmacy to the Rescue
Maintaining Wellness During the Pandemic with the PATIENTS Program

The PATIENTS Program collaborates with local wellness professional to educate community about healthy eating. Read the whole story here.

Recognizing Teacher Appreciation Week

Students in the online MS in Palliative Care program share notes of thanks to the program’s faculty members. Read the whole story here.

Pharmacists embrace non-traditional jobs to help support essential functions at a local psychiatric hospital during the COVID-19 pandemic. Read the whole story here.

Do you have a story?

Share your story of how you have reached out to support your family, friends, colleagues, and community during the COVID-19 pandemic. If you know someone who has done something good, give them kudos!

KUDOS

Read All About It

Click here to read the latest from faculty, staff, students, and alumni recognizing their colleagues and peers for a job well done.
Teacher and Mentor Appreciation

Dr. Cynthia Boyle shares her thanks to all of the previous educators who helped prepare students for the rigors of pharmacy school. Read the whole story here.

Student Pharmacists Host First-Ever WebEx Last Lecture

Fourth-year student pharmacists host virtual "Last Lecture" using WebEx. Read the whole story here.

Student Pharmacists Celebrate Teacher Appreciation Week
Zoom Meetings Reinforce Connections Between Faculty and Students

Dr. Kristin Watson finds ways for student pharmacists to stay connected during the COVID-19 pandemic. Read the whole story here.

The PATIENTS Program Goes LIVE (on Facebook)

The PATIENTS Program works to engage members of the West Baltimore community through a series of Facebook Live events. Read the whole story here.

The Class of 2022 expresses their gratitude to faculty with a special "thank you" video during Teacher Appreciation Week. Read the whole story here.

Do you have a story?

Share your story of how you have reached out to support your family, friends, colleagues, and community during the COVID-19 pandemic. If you know someone who has done something good, give them kudos!

KUDOS

Read All About It

Click here to read the latest from faculty, staff, students, and alumni recognizing their colleagues and peers for a job well done.

TAKE ME TO THE GOOD NEWS
HELPING HANDS
How the UMSOP Community is Stepping Up During the COVID-19 Pandemic
June 22, 2020

PharmD Class of 2000 Hosts Virtual 20-Year Reunion

Doctor of Pharmacy (PharmD) Class of 2020 hosts a virtual get-together to celebrate their 20-year class reunion. Read the whole story here.

COVID-19 and Social Determinants of Health

BHRT staff members host virtual meeting to address pharmacy-related issues surrounding the COVID-19 pandemic. Read the whole story here.

The PATIENTS Program Hosts
"Ms. BJ's Corner"

The PATIENTS Program hosts Facebook Live event to connect with local communities about health and research. Read the whole story here.

Do you have a story?

Share your story of how you have reached out to support your family, friends, colleagues, and community during the COVID-19 pandemic. If you know someone who has done something good, give them kudos!

KUDOS

Read All About It

Click here to read the latest from faculty, staff, students, and alumni recognizing their colleagues and peers for a job well done.

TAKE ME TO THE GOOD NEWS