

Prioritization of Comparative Effectiveness Research (CER)/ Patient-Centered Outcomes Research (PCOR) on Prostate Cancer Active Surveillance (AS): Community Consensus Initiative

Everyone is very excited about this project.

The team is very excited as we are planning our two-day meeting for this project. The first stage of our planning is getting input on which topics everyone would like to focus on. If you want to, please fill out this BRIEF survey about topics that YOU think are important to the future use of Active Surveillance (AS) in the management of prostate cancer.

We are seeking input from patients, patients' spouses/partners and supporters/caregivers, physicians, nurses, and others.
