The Learning Patient-Centered Outcomes Research (PCOR) System Holds Deliberative Engagement Session

The PATIENTS Program held its first Deliberative Engagement Session to talk about best practices for planning for patient-centered outcomes research (PCOR).

Patients, community members, clinicians, researchers and other stakeholders who have worked on projects with The PATIENTS Program in the past went to the session.

The next Deliberative Engagement Session, which will talk about best practices for conducting for PCOR, is on August 26.
